Five-Power Control To End Tangier Tangle

Spain Will Share 'Prime Representation'?

International Conference To Examine Change In Statute

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5. (A.P.A.): Spain will share prime representation with France in the future Five-Power Control of Tangier, it was learned authoritatively today.

Spain's "unilateral control" of the African International Zone will soon be abolished as a result of the recent Tangier Conference in Paris at which it was reported to have been decided that France and Spain have received four votes each in the International Assembly governing the zone while Britain, Russia and the United States were given three votes each.

Four provisions were adopted by the experts of Britain, the United States, Russia and France when they met in Paris from August 10 to 31, the state department said. They were:

(1) The immediate evacuation of Tangier by the Spanish;

(2) The reestablishment of sovereign rights to the Sultan in the Tangier zone;

(3) The restoration of International Administration on the basis of the 1923 convention modified in 1928; and

(4) American and Russian collaboration in the Administration which will be provisional and remain in force only until the conclusion of a new convention between the signatory powers to the act of Algeciras of 1906.

An International Conference of these Powers will be "subsequently" convoked in order to examine the changes in the Tangier Statute which may be proposed by any of the Controlling Powers.

Viceroy To Return Next Week-End

Provincial Elections & Formation Of Constituent Assembly To Be Next Step

LONDON, September 5. (U.P.I.): The Cabinet Committee on India met to-day. Officially no names are given out but those present presumably included Mr. Atlee, Prime Minister, Lord Pethick-Lawrence, Secretary of State for India, Lord Stansgate, Mr. Arthur Handerson, Sir Stafford Cripps, Mrs. Elen Wilkinson and Lord Wavell.

The "United Press of India" understands that the task of reviewing the Indian situation as reported by the Viceroy is now concluded. The first stage in discussions is thus completed. From to-day onwards the ministers will apply their minds on the steps to be taken in the near future for early realisation of self-Government as foreshadowed in King's speech.

"It is a reasonable assumption to make", says the "United Press of India" political correspondent, "that the Viceroy on his return to India will apply his mind in the first instance to the provincial elections. He will be mainly concerned after the elections to get going the machinery for the formation of the Constituent Assembly which will be the constitution-making body in India.

"It is generally agreed that Pakistan will be a big issue during the elections but the Government has not yet made up its mind either way. Sir Stafford Cripps is giving a lot of attention to the Pakistan issue, I understand on a reliable authority".

This week will see the ideas on the Indian constitutional issue taking shape and the Viceroy after his final meeting with the Premier and the Foreign Minister Mr. Bevin, is expected to fly back to India by the end of next week.

It is not known if the Viceroy will call another conference on his return to New Delhi; but informed circles are inclined to think that he may invite prominent leaders for private discussion.

In the meantime it is hoped that Lord Pethick Lawrence will be able to see the Parliamentary deputation on India before the end of the week of early next week.

PLEA FOR UNOFFICIAL R.T.C.

LONDON, September 5. (A.P.A.): A British authority, commenting on the trend of the Wavell discussions here, to-day suggested the formation of an unofficial Round Table Conference of Indians as the first step toward a solution of the many problems involved.

He recommended that such a conference be composed of the prime Ministers of the 11 provinces after the general elections, former Prime Ministers and the accredited representatives all political and economic groups in India not excluding the princes.

Report About Agreement Premature

CHUNGKING, Sept. 5. (Reuter): The talks between Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek and General Mao Tse Tung, Chinese Communist leader, may last another fortnight, the Chinese Minister of information Doctor C. K. Wu declared today. He said the two leaders have met on several occasions and twice have had very lengthy talks.

"The report that an agreement has been reached between them is premature", Doctor Wu added.

Doctor P. H. Chang, a Chinese Cabinet spokesman, said: "It is the wish of the Chinese Government and people to establish constitutional government at the earliest possible date.

"So far as I know, the Government is not contemplating the postponement of National Assembly.

It is very probable that the Assembly will be held in Chungking.

"It is hoped to transfer the administrative functions of the Government to Nanking before the beginning of 1946."

FATE OF BR. LIBERAL PARTY SEALED

"Common Wealth" To Decide On Dissolution This Month

(From Our Correspondent)

LONDON, Sept. 5.

The finances of the once great wealthy Liberal Party are now so low after the crippling losses of the general election campaign that there are doubts whether the Party will be able to carry on. The salaries of the Headquarters Staff cannot be paid. After Christmas the Party is, therefore, holding a grand inquest week-end preceded by a meeting of the "Ginger Group" within the Party, which favours joining the Labour Party.

Sir Archibald Sinclair, leader of the Party, will make his first visit to London since his defeat in the general election and address the meeting.

The future of the Common Wealth Party of which Sir Richard Acland is the leader will be decided at a conference in London on September 16 when a resolution will be moved that the Common Wealth Party be dissolved so that its members may be free to join the Labour Party.

KIDWAI ASKS CONGRESS TO KEEP OFF ELECTIONS

Want Of Freedom Of Speech And Press: Officials' Move To Put Up Candidates!

LUCKNOW, September 5. (A.P.I.): Mr. Rafi Ahmed Kidwai, former Revenue Minister of the United Provinces, in a statement has suggested to the Congress Working Committee to refuse to participate in the coming elections unless freedom of speech and the press is restored and unless obstacles in the way of normal functioning of Congress are removed.

Mr. Kidwai says that is not possible for Congress to throw its full weight into the elections unless these handicaps are removed.

He adds: "In spite of the assurance given in the British Parliament that every attempt will be made to have free elections, the U. P. Government is placing all sorts of difficulties in the way of resumption of normal activities by Congress.

"Congress Committees have been legalised but the houses which accommodated their offices are not being restored. In places where these offices were situated in rented houses, these houses are being utilised otherwise and Government does not think that is their responsibility to restore them to the Congress Committees.

GOVT. ALSO BUSY.

Mr. Kidwai says: "All parties are busy preparing their election campaigns and so are Government. They are taking steps which they think would handicap Congress in its campaign.

They are not revising the electoral rolls."

"Moneyed people", Mr. Rafi Ahmed concludes, "are being induced by officials to contest the forthcoming elections. In one instance, the Commissioner of a Division has asked a Raja to contest a seat for the Provincial Legislature. For holding impartial elections it is necessary that interested persons should not be allowed to occupy a position of vantage and influence."

Kidwai On Handicaps To Free Elections

LUCKNOW, September 5, (U. P. I.): Mr. Rafi Ahmed Kidwai, former Revenue Minister, in the course of a statement says:—

"In reply to a letter of the Cawnpore Congress Committee requesting the delivery of the property seized on August 9 1942, and to release the Tilak Hall where their offices are located, the District Magistrate said that he was examining the position and records and as regards the Tilak Hall he would have to consider to what extent it could be used for rationing purposes. It seems to me he is not in a hurry to restore the property and he is thinking to make some use of the Tilak Hall which has been lying vacant for the last so many months.

"Similarly the District Magistrate of Lucknow has informed the manager of the "National Herald" that neither the Rationing Officer has any intention of vacating the "National Herald" building nor he has any intention of ejecting him. It is not possible to get any other building for offices of the "National Herald" in that locality and I think that is an additional inducement for the District Magistrate to refuse the restoration of the building to the paper.

"It is well-known that the Provincial Government was opposed to the allotment of the newsprint quota to the "National Herald" and when they were overruled by the Government of India they suggested a demand of maximum security.

"The building and the Press of the Hindi daily "Sainik" of Agra are in possession of the police. There seems to be no intention to permit reappearing of the paper which was the only organ of the Congress in that locality.

HALLETT SAYS HE IS NOT IN IT.

LUCKNOW, Sept. 5, (A. P. I.): Sir Maurice Hallett desires to contradict "in toto" the allegations appearing in a recent statement in the Press that he and his officers were interfering to induce persons to contest the forthcoming elections. There is no truth whatever in the allegation regarding his action during a recent visit to Agra, says a Press Communique.

Rafi Ahmed Kidwai's Narrow Escape

LUCKNOW, September 4. (U. P.): Mr. Rafi Ahmed Kidwai, former Revenue Minister in the United Province had a narrow escape in the early hours of this morning when an electric spark emanating from a table lamp wiring and fanned by the electric and his bedding on which he was sleeping.

It is reported that when after midnight he went to bed a spark emanated from the table lamp wiring, and fanned by the electric fan, set his bedding on fire. When after some time he felt suffocated he got up, and to his amazement found fire raging on all sides. By sheer pluck and presence of mind he managed to get out of the room. He then removed the cot and the bedding to the courtyard and again went to bed as if nothing had happened.

Mr. Kidwai has left for Allahabad tonight to see Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru.

Punjab Orders Revision Of Rolls

LAHORE, Sept. 5, (A. P. I.): The Punjab Government has ordered the preparation of fresh electoral rolls for the Ppujab Legislative Assembly. The rolls were last revised in April, 1941, and the revision now ordered is stated to be a routine quinquennial measure.

JAIRAMDAS TO ATTEND CONGRESS CABINET SESSION

POONA, Sept. 5. (A.P.I.): Mr. J. B. Kripalani, General Secretary of the Congress, announces that Mr. Jairamdas Daulatram from Sind has also been invited to attend the next meeting of the Congress Working Committee.

JINNAH SOLVES SIND LEAGUE DEADLOCK

KARACHI, September. 5. (A.P.I.): Mr. M. A. Jinnah at a Press Conference to-day made the following statement: Our new constitution and rules lay down that the Provincial Muslim League Parliamentary Board should be constituted consisting of seven persons as follows: 2 ex-officio members of the Board and five to be elected, one by the League Assembly Party and four by the Council of the Provincial Muslim League. As regards the two ex-officio members of the Board, who come in by virtue of their office, one would be Sir Ghulam Hussain Hidayatullah as leader of the Muslim League Parliamentary Party and the other Mr. G. M. Syed as President of the Sind Provincial Muslim League, and it was the general concensus of opinion that Mr. Khuhro's name should be recommended for election by the League Assembly Party, and that Mir Ghulam Ali Khan Talpur, Syed Khair Shah, Mr. Ghulam Nabi Pathan, and Pir Illahi Baksh should be recommended to the Council of the Sind Provincial Muslim League and that the Council should be persuaded to accept them as their representatives on the Board, and it is hoped that the Council will endorse their recommendation and elect them.

SELECTION OF CANDIDATES.

This Board, when formed and completed, will proceed with its task according to the new rules and the procedure laid down by the Central Parliamentary Board and finally select the candidates from amongst all the applicants and the persons so selected will be the official Muslim League candidates. But a dissatisfied candidate has a right to appeal to the Central Parliamentary Board of the All-India Muslim League and their decision will be final.

TEST FOR LEAGUE.

In the meantime I appeal to the voters in various constituencies not to make any promises until they know finally who are the candidates set up by the Muslim League, and there after I appeal to every voter to support the League candidates.

We are face to face with a very vital and paramount issue, and this is one of the important criteria by which the opinion in India and abroad will be greatly influenced, as this is one of the tests by which Muslim India can prove that we are solidly and determinedly in favour of Pakistan.

India Has Sufficient Uranium For Atom Bombs

MADRAS, September 4. (A.P.A.): "In India, one need not be afraid that uranium cannot be obtained in sufficient quantities for the manufacture of atom bombs," writes Dr. V. S. Dubey, Professor of Economics and Geology, Benares, in to-day's "Hindu".

Prof. Dubey thinks that uranium can be extracted by crushing granite in a special plant. He says that 2,000 tons of granite will yield 40 pounds of uranium and in 20 tons of the heavy residue, radium can be recovered by ordinary chemical treatment.

Only power and chemicals are needed in India to extract uranium from rock, as Russia does.

MISCHIEVOUS, SAYS MISS WILKINSON

LEEDS, Sept. 5, (A. P. A.): Miss Ellen Wilkinson, British Minister of Education, took Prof. Harold Laski to task for saying that Britain was "a second class power" in an address she said, the Chairman of the Labour Party's National Executive Committee made in Stockholm last week.

In an address prepared for the twenty-third National Conference of Labour Women Miss Wilkinson exclaimed: "The most mischievous thing that can be said abroad to-day is that Britain is a second class power just because our overseas assets are gone. The British people have shown they are willing to try out new ideas, are willing to work for a planned economy.

"Britain's future depends on the way all of us, who are concerned, tackle this great new task of providing the best brain assets for our mighty nation."

CLASH OVER PEARL HARBOUR REPORT IMMINENT

(From D. F. Karaka "Chronicle" Special Representative.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.

A sharp clash over the Pearl Harbour report appears to be imminent when the United States Congress convenes on Tuesday.

The revelation in the report that the Chief of Staff, Gen. George Marshal, was riding horseback when the Japanese took a heavy toll of American lives at Pearl Harbour, has not been well received by the people whose sons died in that tragic hour.

President Truman's remarks at his Press conference that the country was as much to blame as any individual, have been sharply criticised by Congressmen.

While the official attitude is to close the chapter people's representatives want more information leading to the incident.

INDIAN ARMY BAULKED TWICE

LONDON, Sept. 5. (Reuter):—The Indian Army feels aggrieved because no representative from India was present on Board the "Missouri" in Tokyo Bay at the signing of Japanese surrender terms nor at Rangoon for the Burma surrender ceremony, states "The Times" correspondent in a cable from Delhi.

With Gen. Slim, himself an Indian Army Officer now in command of Allied forces in South-East Asia, it is expected that the Indian Army will at least be in the picture at the surrender at Singapore.

U. S. Agreees To Russian Annexation

WASHINGTON, September 5. (U.P.A.): The Secretary of State Mr. James Byrnes in a press statement to-day said that the late President Roosevelt agreed at the Yalta Conference not to contest the Russian annexation of the Kurile Islands and Southern Sakhalin after the end of the war with Japan. Both these areas formerly belonged to Russia, but were taken by Japan as spoils of war following Russia's defeat in the Russo-Japanese war of 1904.

Two U. S. nurses carry heavy combat packs on an eight-mile hike through the India-Burma border area. Women have served heroically in the front lines as nurses, while their sisters in the W.A.C.s the WAVES, the SPARS and the Marines, and those on the production lines at home contributed their invaluable share to the Allied war effort. Vaidya's Reply To Patil

Communists Never Incited Any One To Violence

BOMBAY, Sept. 4.

D. S. Vaidya, Secretary, Bombay Committee of the Communist Party of India has issued the following statement:

"I am glad that Mr. S. K. Patil has issued a statement appealing to all parties to allow free scope for the expression of its views. In my previous statement I had made the same appeal on behalf of the Bombay Committee of the Communist Party of India.

"Mr. Patil's statement, however, does not constitute a frank condemnation of the unprovoked assaults that took place on Sunday. On the other hand it creates a belief that honest members of the public were involved in this affair, thus offering a justification for these attacks.

I am sure every decent citizen will protest against the suggestion that the public was involved in these crimes and lay the blame at the door of the organised bands of goondas who carried on the assaults. One would have expected Mr. S. K. Patil to condemn at least attempts to molest women, but in his partisan version he forgets even this minimum duty which he owes to the city.

"Mr. Patil concentrates his fire on the Communists for what happened at Lal Baug. I again repudiate all responsibility for the Lal Baug affair and wish to declare that our Party has been campaigning for the legalisation of the Congress, release of national leaders and restoration of civil liberties for the last three years. It wants the Congress to function normally and it cannot be its policy to create any obstruction in the way of the Congress. We have our differences with the Congress, but we have attempted to solve them by campaigning among the people.

"I emphatically repudiate the suggestion that the Communist Party is carrying scurrilous and provocative propaganda systematically inciting the people to violence. Can Mr. Patil point out a single leaflet containing anti-Congress scurrilous propaganda?

It is true that on many occasions our Party had to sharply criticise Mr. Patil for his unbalanced statements. Recently our Party issued leaflet sharply criticising Mr. Patil's remarks about Communist girls, made in his speech at Kamatipura. No decent person could tolerate such remarks. I offer to withdraw the criticism and the leaflet if Mr. Patil proves that he did not make the remarks attributed to him.

"The charge of inciting people to violence has the familiar imperialist ring. It is a pity that almost the first statement of the, B.P.C.C. Secretary after its legalisation should echo this charge against a brother Party.

"I, however, join with Mr. S. K. Patil in appealing for free expression of views, especially in view of the coming elections when tempers are bound to rise. And I hope that the press also will not take a partisan attitude but allow both sides to represent their cause, so that a proper popular verdict on any incident or political issue is rendered possible."

RASHTRA SEVA DAL VOLUNTEERS NOT IN "SCUFFE" WITH COMMUNISTS.

The Dal Pramukh of the Rashtra Seva Dal (Bombay' has issued the following :—

My attention has been drawn to the communique issued by the Secretary of the Communist Party of Bombay, in which malicious and baseless accusations have been made against the volunteers of my Dal. A certain section of the press, for reasons best known to themselves has lent them support. The public is now in possession of complete information regarding what happened at Shri Shankarrao Dea's meeting at the Tejoo Kaya Park and on subsequent days.

As a responsible officer of the Rashtra Seva Dal I have made careful enquiries and come to the conclusion that no where were our volunteers involved in any disgraceful scuffle or attacks. On the other hand all those volunteers of my Dal who happened to be present at some of the incidents have done the valuable work of restoring peace and order That was what was expected of them and no body would dare to blame them for that. The public knows the volunteers of the Rashtra Seva Dal too well as they have served them for the last three years with conspicuous success, and I hope it would refuse to be misled by interested propaganda.

More P. O. W. S. From Japanese Held Areas

CALCUTTA September 5, (A. P. I.): There is a steady flow into Calcutta of small parties of Allied prisoners of war and civilian internees after their liberation from Japanese prisons in the Far East. The latest to come by air are eight Dutch Generals who were captured when the Japanese took the Netherlands East Indies.

The Governor-General of the Netherlands East Indies, H. E. Mr. A. W. L. Tjarda Van Starkenborgh Stachouwer, and the Commander-in-Chief H. E. Lt.-Gen. H. Ter Poorten who arrived earlier, left for Holland yesterday morning.

The Governor of Sumatra, Mr. A. I. Spits, Lt.-General Bakker and Maj.-Gen. Van Rees, who came to Calcutta with the Governor-General of the N. East Indies, have left for Colombo.

Some 8,000 physically fit Indian troops are expected in Calcutta by sea after release from Japanese prison camps.

New U. S. Ambassador To Be Sent To Argentine

WASHINGTON, September 4. (Reuter): It is expectedx that the United States will send her ambassador to Argentine to replace Mr. Spruille Braden, the Secretary of State Mr. James Byrnes said in Washington today.

In view of the diplomotic difficulties between the United States and Argentine, there had been considerable speculation in Latin American circles as to whether the vacancy would be filled.

SHANKERRAO DEO'S APPEAL FOR TWO LAKHS

Collection For Workers In Maharashtra

On the 1st of August, the auspicious day of the Late Lokmanya Tilak's Death Anniversary, workers in Maharashtra, at their meeting in Poona resolved to inaugurate a 'Congress Sevak Sangh' of lifelong and devoted Congress workers, with the object of organising public life in Maharashtra on a broad and sound basis of nationalism through constructive and political Congress activities and to raise a fund of Rs. 150.000 for the same. This decision was hailed by all and all over the Province. To organise such workers was the fond idea of the late Lokmanya and it is but natural that workers in Maharashtra, who are followers of the Lokmanya and who are devoted to Congress should feel proud to-day that his idea is materialising and that they have the good fortune of being instrumental in it. They also feel confident about the success of the plan.

Congress-work to-day is not restricted only to the fostering of discontent in the minds of the Indian public against the foreign power and to organise them to drive that power out of the country. In its steady but sure growth it has assumed so vast a proportion as to work out full-fledged social revolution in the Indian nation with a special faith and plan. If the task is to be fulfilled with speed and efficiency it must command devoted services of numerous workers. No work unfolds its hidden truth in full form without its ceaseless meditation and necessary faith and strength to fulfil the task will not grow in the worker, so long as he does not catch the glimpse of the truth.

REMOVE THEIR FINANCIAL WORRIES.

In order that ceaseless meditation and devotedness should grow, the worker must be kept free from financial worries. It is quite true that there are numerous Congress workers in Maharashtra, who without minding their continued financial worries, family troubles and privations, are cheerfully devoting their all to the national cause. But working under such heavy disabilities for the last twenty-five years, though their devotion enthusiasm and sincerity has not yet dimmed, it is feared that they are suffering in their strength and efficiency in view of the growing nature of the tasks before them. This loss is a great national calamity; and therefore, it is the primary duty of the people to avert the calamity and to make best of the workers, to see that they are free from financial worries. Merely making arrangements for a year will not help us, the arrangement should be of a reasonably permanent character if the above object is to be achieved. The organisers have this idea before them, but they think that a perennial flow of public help, which is better than a collection of a big amount once for all, should be organised.

The target figure may be reached but the task before is a big one. We have therefore decided not to bind down the Sangh with such technicalities as aims, objects, constitution, etc. The workers feel that they may be able to serve the cause more without going into technicalities and that they think that no harm can be done to the organisation. We aim at collecting Rs./ 150,000, before the 31st October, but we expect Rs. two lakhs for, with the workers we must provide for the work undertaken.

I am confident that all classes and communities, both in cities and villages, in Maharashtra will give their might to this cause and thereby accelerate the progress in Maharashtra by creating a strong organisation.

OBJECTS.

The Company has been formed for the purpose specified in the Memorandum of Association of the Company and in particular for the purpose of establishing one or more textile Mills in Behar. The Company will carry on the business of spinning, weaving, dyeing, bleaching, mercerizing and printing of cloth and yarn both cotton and silk. It is proposed to erect the Mills at some place near Bhagalpur which is the junction of E.I.R. and O. & T. Railway and is also accessible by metalled road and river. There are even now very few cotton Mills in Behar and their production is not sufficient to meet even a portion of the demand of the Province. Bhagalpur is famous for its silk and weaving industry and the Company will therefore be able to get trained labour at the spot. The War has proved conclusively that the present Cotton Mills in India, even if they work up to capacity, are unable to meet the internal demand of cloth and yarn. There is cloth famine in the country and Behar is one of the worst sufferers because it has very few Mills. There is always a great demand of Indian textiles from Middle East, China and other neighbouring countries and due to the devastation caused by the War and owing to the big post-war reconstruction programme of the various countries such demand is likely to increase to a great extent after the War. The Company intends first to start spinning mills with about 25.000 spindles to manufacture yarn which is in great demand in Behar. Later on it proposes to equip the factory with looms also to weave cloth both silk and cotton. Provisional order for the purchase of machinery has already been placed with Messrs. Tweedales & Smalley (1920) Ltd. the well-known textile machinery manufacturers of U. K. and a sum of Rs. 1.00.-000/- has already been paid to them in advance.

Mr. Lakhiprasad Shah, Mr. C. P. N. Singh and Mr. Nandlal Chowdhury are Directors of the Company and also Directors of the Managing Agents' Company and as such are interested in the remuneration payable to the Managing Agents. Mr. P. Miss Kanta Randevi wondered why mothers day should not be observed universally when the anniversaries of bright sons continue to be celebrated. Mrs. Dhrap urged the need of proper education to turn out ideal mothers.

Rents, Hotel Rates Etc. Act

The Bombay Rents, Hotels Rates and Lodging House Rates (Control) (Amendment) Act of 1945, having received the assent of His Excellency the Governor-General, is published in the Bombay Government Gazette of September 3.

Part II of the Bombay Rents, Hotel Rates and Lodging House Rates (Control) Act, provides for the control and regulation of residential and other premises. In the City of Bombay the provisions of Part II of the Act apply to premises let for any purpose other than the storage of goods. In the Bombay Suburban District, however, Part II is applicable to any building or part of a building let for the purpose of residence only. In view of the establishment of several business concerns in Bombay Suburban District, and the fact that the conditions prevailing therein are very similar to those in the City of Bombay, the Government of Bombay considers it essential to extend the provisions of Part II of the Act to business premises in Bombay Suburban District. This object is achieved by the amending Act.

Party Of Indians Climbs Himalayan Peak

NEW DELHI, September 5. (A.P.I.): What is believed to be the first Indian attempt by a party of 30 Indian mountaineers to scale the 18,000 feet high Kolahoi peak of the Himalayan ranges about 75 miles away from Srinagar in Kashmir is narrated by "The Statesman's" Lahore correspondent.

Only three reached the summit of the peak after a difficult and dangerous ascent. On the summit, the party found a purse which contained silver rupees, a letter, a bullet and a piece of chewing gum left there by an American who made a lone ascent last year. The party treasures the purse as a souvenir.

The venture was organised by W. Cowley, Provincial Youth Organiser, who is training Indian youths to conquer the highest peaks of the Himalayas under the auspices of the Punjab Mountaineering Club.

NATIONAL PLANNING —NEXT STEP

An informal meeting of the National Planning Committee will be held next week to consider the next step in the programme of that body. The future of the National Planning Committee must be a most serious problem, occupying not only the chairman and members of that Committee but also the National Congress under whose auspices, or on whose initiative the Committee was called into being; and sooner a new lead is given in this regard, the better it would be for the country.

The Planning Committee was appointed by the then President of the Congress, Mr. Subhas Chandra Bose, and placed in charge of Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, towards the end of 1938. It has, therefore, hardly had a year to function, for in the October following, the Congress ministries having resigned, the main prop of the Committee disappeared and the work the Committee had done upto the arrest and incarceration of the chairman could not be completed nor published. The Government of India never looked with favour on that body and the Provincial Governments functioning under S 93 of the Government of India Act, 1935, followed the same inspiration. The work of the Planning Committee thus went inevitably into cold storage. It was only when the exigencies of the totalitarian war forced the hands of the Delhi authorities, and compelled them to reconsider their attitude towards planning that they could awake to the need and disirability of planning with its corrollaries of control and regulation, rationing and price-fixing. Planning and Development Department of the Government of India became unavoidable, if for no other reason, at least to assure the United States that the material obtained under Lease-Lend would not be utilised in enriching private entrepreneurs. But the motive and the objective of Government planning were not the same as the National Planning Committee's. The Planning and Development was, therefore, the least welcome to the Clympian bigwigs, except in so far as it could be utilised to create fresh overpaid sinecures for unemployed civil or military supporters of the existing order. Though almost every other department of Government was concerned with planning,—and said to be planning its own work, there was hardly any communication, and much less co-ordination, between these and the new-born babe with an average civilian in charge. Planning for the other departments was mainly in name, for the war only. For the new department was concerned with the future, in which none were interested except to preserve in tact their vested interests.

Meanwhile, war demands had forced the pace in industrial development. Fresh war industries were established and existing industries received adventitious protection and encouragement, beyond the wildest dreams of their proprietors. The latter, however, lacked foresight, and only looked upon the unexpected opportunity as the means to exploit the local market to the utmost, even though it meant paying ever growing taxes on incomes, and excess profits. The only section which suffered was the producer, the primary source of new wealth, e.g., fixing of not only the floor, but also the ceiling, for the raw cotton produced in this country. Prices rose, more by watering the currency than by genuine increase in prosperity and so did the cost of production, as well as of living.

None of this, however, was planned development, even if it was real improvement in the economic conditions of the country. The war has brought immense advances in science and technique, but they have left little abiding benefit upon India. Trade has languished and industrial equipment has been overworked and depreciated for want of proper maintenance, repairs and renewal. Public utilities, like transport, have had to be neglected,—except in so far as they ministered directly to the war effort. Even social services have been starved, undermanned and underfed. The post-war planner for India has thus an infinitely more complicated task than that which faces his prototype in war-worn countries of the West or the East.

Menwhile, there has been an exceedingly heavy crop of plans and planners. If a comparative analysis could be made,—we present the idea to the authorities of the Naticnal Planning Committee) of the most noisy of these plans, they would be found to run on strangely similar lines, abounding in platitudes, and exceeding in plagiarism. Vested interests have also grown up—not always Indian, nor sympathetic to the essence of naticnal planning. All that will add yet another complication for the post-war planner. Resources, particularly in regard to capital, if not lacking, are at least unavailable. But more than all these, is the need for a clear, unambiguous and definite policy, which could be placed before the country at the approaching general election and may serve as the earnest of the post-war nation-builders towards improving the material lot of the masses. The most urgent as well as important point, therefore, we would suggest to the Planning Committee to consider is that of the general policy, defining aim and end of planning, its ways and means and also laying down some kind of a proper, co-ordinating administrative machinery, which is utterly lacking in the official planning (sic). It must be the foremost task of the National Government, which even the official planners agree is an indispensable condition precedent for real planning. We trust an earnest patriot like Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru will not fail to see this essential prerequisite of fruitful planning.

Frankly Speaking

Chinese Unity Attempts

Expectations arising out of the successful conclusion of a Sino-Soviet Treaty have not been disappointed. The Communist leader, Mao Tse-Tung agreed to meet Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek and discussions have already resulted in at least a temporary agreement. The Chungking-Yenan conflict has been so long-standing and so serious that a quick and complete agreement could not have been expected even by the sanguine. A good beginning has been made and a favourable atmosphere created for that unity of China which every friend and well-wisher of that country and its great people has long and ardently wished for. The credit for this preliminary success goes to the Soviet and U. S. Governments and to the leaders of the two contending parties.

Generalissimo's Pledge

But Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's contribution is particularly valuable and welcome. He has agreed to institute far-reaching reforms like the abolition of one party rule and the establishment of democracy on Western lines in China. He has also promised laws to ensure equality and freedom to all political parties, free speech and the abolition of press censorship. He has thus removed in one sweep the reasons that occasioned criticism by opponents and regret among friends. It is a veritable promise of a new and democratic China. One of the most important questions, however, still remains outstanding; that of the existence side by side, of a state army and a "private army". In this case also Generalissimo Chiang has made an important gesture to the Communists by abolishing the Kuomintang branch in the armed forces. This gesture, together with the pledge of political freedom and full democracy, deserves to go a long way towards the achievement of "the nationalisation of the armed forces".

Mid-East Problems

The British Government has summoned to London its diplomatic representatives in all the Middle East countries and Iran for consultations. This suggests that the Labour Government has realised that Middle East problems need urgent and serious considerations. And the Government is right. There are several problems and they are all quite serious. In Iran the situation is fast heading towards a crisis because of the presence of Anglo-Soviet occupying forces and the difficulties that are confronting the Government of Iran for no fault of that Government. There is no reason why Soviet and British troops should remain in the country any longer unless they are now being kept there for other and objectionable purposes quite contrary to the letter and spirit of the solemn undertaking given by the Allied Governments in 1941. The developing crisis in Iran threatens grave repercussions not only in the Middle East but also beyond. And the sooner it is solved by the only method possible the better.

The Only Solution

But there are other problems, too. There is the scramble among the Big Powers for oil and strategic bases in Arab countries. There is determined French imperialist opposition to an equally determined resolve by the people of Syria and Lebanon to be completely free and independent. There is the conflict between the just and unquestionable right of the Arabs of Palestine to be masters of their own country and the Zionist campaign to deprive them of that right. And above these problems looms ominous for European imperialists, the growing unity among the Arab countries as organised in the Arab League. No wonder the British Government takes the situation seriously. But its only solution is for the Big Powers to realise that the Middle East, Egypt and Iran are no longer willing to be exploited or dominated in any form.

Weapons Of Imperialism

When Mr. Kripalani described the Defence of India Rules as lawless and unconstitutional laws he did not at all use the language of exaggeration. Whatever justification there was for them during the war has now entirely disappeared. They are now continued, not to defend India against the enemy, but to defend British imperialism in India against Indians themselves who seek to end it. They are in fact no longer defensive but, as suggested by Mr. Kripalani, offensive against the country, meant "to hold our own". That they should be still tolerated by a Labour Government is one more proof, if one were wanted, to show that, where India is concerned, all British parties are alike. If so, the Rules will not go for the asking. There should be suitable vigorous agitation against them. They should warn all against any tendency to rest on one's oars just because a one-sided appeal "to forget and forgive" has been made by the Viceroy. So long as Indians are denied their freedom, though they bled for others' freedom, so long as a single Indian continues to be incarcerated for nothing more than that he participated in the fight for his country's freedom, forgiveness may be humanly possible, forgetting is not. It would, indeed, be a sin to forget that freedom has yet to be won.

An Urgent Need

The Congress Municipal Party's proposal, now before the Corporation, to construct nearly 60,000 one room and two room tenements in the city has come not a day too soon. Such a recommendation was made by the Rent Inquiry Committee appointed by the Congress Ministry in 1938, but it could not be acted upon during the war, owing to shortage of building materials and various controls by Government. Even now the success of the scheme will depend largely on Government's readiness to relax its controls, and release materials needed for the buildings. That there is urgent need for thousands of tenements for the poor and the lower middle class people goes without saying. These people have suffered terribly all these war years from various scarcities, none more depressing than the scarcity of decent living room. To put off the scheme now on any ground would be cruelty. There is enough land in the city for building purposes and enough capital for investment on buildings. It is the duty of the Government, the Municipality and the people to co-operate and see that the scheme is put through as speedily as possible.

BHAKTI SHASTRI ON "SHRI KRISHNA'S MESSAGE"

BOMBAY, Wednesday.

In connection with Shri Krishna Jayanti celebration, a public meeting was held at Sundrabai Hall, Queen's Road, to-day, when Swami Shri Nitaidasji Bhaktishastri of Gaudiya Mission, spoke on "Shri Krishna and His Message".

Justice Sir H. V. Divatia, who presided stressed the need for purging all false notions about Lord Shri Krishna whose real teachings through the Bhagwat Gita were the harmonious synthesis of knowledge and devotion which should be the spring-board of action so that they could become true Karma Yogis.

Swami Nitaldasji in his speech dwelt on the devotional aspect of Shri Krishna's message. He quoted profusely from the Bhagwat Gita.

Mr. K. M. Munshi who proposed a vote of thanks said that for our progress, the message of Shri Krishna as taught in the Bhagwat Gita, should be remembered.

Paratrooper Must Be Super-Infantryman

Training Of Indian Regiment And Its Role In Battle

(By An Indian Army Observer)

Parachuting has become a routine occupation for scores of thousands of Indian soldiers in the past few years.

The hangar where these men receive their ground training before they do any jumping presents a bizarre spectacle. It's part of the Indian Airborne Training Centre almost under the shadows of the Himalayan foothills.

The Parachute Regiment consists exclusively of volunteers from India's best fighting units. Although all of them have completed their regular infantry training, recruits must successfully complete a month of the most rigorous training imaginable. Even before they begin their parachute training, they must prove to be super-infantrymen. They receive tactical training under stimulated battle conditions, and they must be extraordinary marksmen not only with rifle, but with machine-gun and Sten-gun as well.

They finish their probationary training with a 40-mile march up a tortuous mountain trail with a 50-pounds pack on their back. At each halting they must dig in just as though they were at the front, preparing for an enemy attack. And any recruit who displays the slightest deficiency during these four gruelling weeks is dismissed from the regiment immediately and returned to his infantry unit.

PREPARATIONS FOR JUMPING

Once they have completed their probationary training, the recruits begin their preparations for jumping. They spend 10 days jumping from "mock" planes and learning to guide their "chutes" and to roll.

The regiment's officers include a number of Indians some holding the regular King's Commission with long service and promoted during the war from the ranks of Viceroy's Commissioned officers. There is a Sikh captain who has served 18 years in the army, and it is not uncommon to find a V.C.O. who has served 25 to 30 years.

The final test of the Indian paratroop recruits comes on the morning when they are handed parachutes and ordered to march into a waiting Dakota. For all of them this is their first airplane ride, and any man who hesitates is "washed out."

A DRAMATIC EPISODE

One of the most dramatic episodes that has occurred at the training centre happened not long ago when a subedar—a Viceroy's Commissioned officer—tangled his static line as he jumped. The "chute" failed to open and the soldier was dragged behind the airplane. He hung there for half an hour before the other men in the plane succeeded in dragging him back. Within an hour he had a new parachute and made the jump—without mishap.

Two battalions of the Indian parachute Regiment were rushed from a training centre in Eastern India early in 1943. The formation of this Parachute Regiment began late in 1942 with the organization of two battalions. But even before they had finished their training, the battalions were ordered into action. That was in 1943 during the crisis in Assam, when the Japanese threatened to sever all communications to British, Indian, American and Chinese forces fighting in Burma.

THEY BEAT THE JAPS

The paratroop battalions were used as ordinary infantry. But their special training held them in good stead in this critical engagement. They stopped the Japanese and defeated them in a fierce battle that cost the Parachute Regiment many of its best soldiers.

It was not until May 1 of this year that the Regiment got its first taste of the kind of action for which it had been trained. One battalion of Indian paratroops was dropped at Elephant Point near Rangoon. Most of the Japanese already had withdrawn but the remainder were quickly wiped out.

General Sir William J. Slim, Commander of the British Fourteenth Army, described this as one of the most perfectly executed parachute operations of the war—despite the lack of opposition.

OUR READERS' VIEWS

Burma Evacuees

Sir,—I am surprised to read the A. P. I. message, of 21st August from Simla, to the effect that inspite of the war with Japan having ended the evacuees from Burma who wanted to return to Burma early have been advised to stick to their present employments and places of residence. This advice is given because the Burma Government anticipated "difficulties of internal transport in Burma, shipping space, accommodation at ports of embarkation, supplies and housing."

"Internal transport in Burma" was always difficult, even before the war, because of inadequate rail and road milage. During the war period more roads have been constructed and there are plenty of military trucks available in that country. These trucks which will bring the returning soldiers to the ports of embarkation can easily take the evacuees from the ports to their places of destination. Same can be done in the case of "shipping." Ships bringing the troops to India instead of going back empty can take the evacuees to Burma.

"Accommodation at ports of embarkation" should not be a difficulty. The war has taught the Government the magic of constructing temporary buildings and shelters practically overnight. Besides there are plenty of tents which have now become available, as they are no longer needed by the military. These can be used for temporary abodes at ports of embarkation as well as for housing purposes elsewhere, till better housing arrangements are made.

Regarding "supplies" rice is the staple food of the Burmese and we are told that the next harvest will make it possible to export some of it to India and other countries. Burma evacuees in India will consume some rice, so would it not be better that these evacuees went back to Burma and ate their own rice there. This would save shipping space and truck space, and wagon space both in India and Burma and afford some relief to the transport authorities. Trucks, tents and other necessary supplies can be presented to Burmese people as a part of the 8 crores of rupees which India has to contribute towards the Relief and Rehabilitation of war-ravaged countries.

Burma evacuees will please not misunderstand that Indians, in any way are hostile to them. We have always had the reputation of being a hospitable nation. We welcome and look after the foreigners very much better than they do to us in their own countries. In their hour of distress and misfortune we gladly gave our sympathy, hospitality and affection not only to the Burmese, who are our neighbours, but to the nationals of the far off countries in Europe who were the victims of Hitler's ruthless aggression. For the past several long years, because of the extra population due to evacuees and of their high standard of living, we poor Indians had to suffer in high prices of commodities and scarcity even of the necessaries of life—food-clothes and housing.

We suffered patiently while the war was on but now that the war is over, it is only right and fair that all the evacuees not only from Burma but from the other western countries, which have now been liberated from the Nazi Yoke, should go back to their countries, as otherwise there will be a further strain on our economy when our soldiers from abroad return home, of whom 10 lakhs are expected back within 6 weeks. Our soldiers whose standard of living has risen during the war will on their return expect better food, better clothes and better houses not only for themselves but also for their family members. To avoid discontent among them it is very necessary that speedy arrangements be made to repatriate all evacuees to their homes, and thereby afford them early opportunity to do their bit in rehabilitating their own countries. Rehabilitation work in all war-stricken countries is an immediate necessity for liquidating war conditions and mentality. Delay in this matter will be dangerous.

Traders And Control

In public interest, you will not hesitate to grant a little space to the following:

The public must have noticed the curious phenomenon of every Controller, one after the other, saying that the controls will last a year or two after the war is over. The public should know how and why.

I happen to know the conditions prevailing in the control of consumer goods. The goods are not seldom ordered to be sent to towns and districts, where they are not in demand. Merchants who are not used to send goods out are on many occasions compelled to do so, even at the risk of the goods lying undistributed for long periods. The merchants suffer a loss by a fall in the prices or reduced percentage of profit margin due to long intervals between applying and getting the release and much later the distribution of reserved goods. The profit margins have been cut without any consultation with the actual trade or without any consideration of the present conditions. In addition, every merchant has to live on tenterhooks every minute of his life, being afraid of being caught in one or other of the mushroom orders, not easily available to the public.

The result has been that the regular importers have lost the incentive, have cut down or stopped imports. So an artificial scarcity is created. This is evident from the fact that recently goods have begun arriving, which are purchased by Sir Akbar Hydari, on behalf of the Government, from United Kingdom. Why did not the regular merchants, import these items? Had they not the means? Had they not the facilities that Sir Akbar had? They found the trouble and the risk too much in comparision with what they undergo at the hands of the control and what they are allowed to gain.

Thus a vicious circle is created by the control itself. As long as the controls are enforced in the manner that they are today, there is bound to be scarcity of consumer goods. As long as the scarcity is there, the control is necessary. It is not in the interest of the newly employed and highly paid—in some cases doubly paid, pension and salary—staff to break this vicious circle. It is to be seen who does it, how and when?

There is one more way in which the control department has insured its life. It has started a huge number of so called fair price shops. Most of these were never in the trade. They are fed by the control department, by taking away a part of regular import of any other dealer and by arranging import licenses for them. So the control department must exist to look after them until days of plenty return. This cannot happen until the vicious circle is broken. Hence the control department will go on. Is this not a fine arrangement?

None of the above statements requires substantiating. They are common knowledge and experience of every merchant who is in the trade. The pity is that there is not a single control officer who had anything to do with trade as such at any stage. Most of them understand the word "control" as checking, harassing, penalising. Now that the war is over, the Government must see that things return to normal at the earliest. This cannot happen unless the authorities concerned take drastic steps to change the situation which exists as stated above.

Questions To Mr. Jinnah

In the proposed Pakistan,

1. Will there be weightage to minorities?
2. Will the minorities have the right of self-determination in areas in which they are in a majority?
3. Will the minorities have safeguards to their full satisfaction?
4. Will there be a State religion?
5. These and similar questions must be answered before the Hindus and Sikhs are asked to accept Pakistan. Will Mr. Jinnah draw up the Pakistan Constitution in main outline for consideration?

Lord Wavell certainly deserves the praise of every Indian for the way in which he has dealt with the Ashti-Chimur prisoners who were condemned to death by a court of law. Building Collapses

Recently we have been reading about the collapse of some building in Bombay with its attendant casualties.

Through this letter, I request the Municipal Commissioner to inspect the old buildings in various areas during his usual morning rounds. I am sure this will save many lives because there are many buildings in Bombay that require thorough overhauling. If the latter is not possible under any condition, it is at least the duty of the Municipality to warn the tenants of such buildings that they stay in them at their own risk because tenants by themselves are unable to see the condition of buildings from an engineer's point of view

That Famous Cigar And The Naked Fakir

A sad page of reckless imperialism and blind jingoism has been torn out with the exit of Messrs. Churchill, Amery & Co. At no time in history did a common Britisher entrust so much of power, reposed so much of implicit faith and confidence on one man as he did in the case of Mr. Churchill. Dangerously pugnacious and reactionary he dragged an entire nation, with legs always in the wrong shoes, to ridicule and suspicion. To quote a few examples one has simply to ponder again over his attitude towards Italy, Greece and Belgium, his wooing of France, his complacency over Smuts' 'Christian' regime and his damping sarcasm on Indian aspirations. The man who once dominated international politics with his inseparable cigar, the man who once stooped to call Gandhiji a 'naked fakir' and challenged the might of non-violence is overnight, forgotten although the latter is still the esteemed leader of 399,999,999 Indians, (the one omitted from this figure being Mr. Jinnah). Mr. Churchill's fall is an eye-opener to swash-buckling, tub-thumping and swaggering politicians.

What about next page? Well, that page is yet to be opened and opinions differ as to what the Labour Government in power will do for India. But one thing is certain and that is all the nationalist forces in India and the progressive people elsewhere have breathed a sigh of relief with the victory of the Labour Party. Just as the common people of England have unitedly voted for a socialist Government with great expectations and for radical changes, so also the common people of India are eagerly looking forward to the Independence of their country, their cherished goal. It now remains to be seen whether the Labour Party will fulfil their promises to the common people of 2 countries and here is a chance for them to make or mar history.

M.B.B.S. Examination

I make an appeal through the columns of your esteemed journal to the University authorities to take the Final Examination of M.B.B.S. some time in November instead of 12th October as arranged. I make this appeal because the results of the last examination was delayed by not less than five weeks which you will appreciate is a pretty good loss of time to the unsuccessful students when the examination is taken twice in a year.

Territorial Units To Decide

Azad On His Plan Of Self-Determination Without Disenfranchisement Of Minorities

SRINAGAR, Sept. 4 (A.P.I.) IT IS LEARNT FROM RELIABLE SOURCES THAT THE CONGRESS PRESIDENT, MAULANA ABUL KALAM AZAD, WISHES TO PLACE THE ISSUE OF SELF-DETERMINATION BEFORE THE WORKING COMMITTEE AT ITS FORTHCOMING MEETING AT POONA SO THAT A DETAILED STATEMENT ON THE SELF-DETERMINATION QUESTION FULLY CLARIFYING THE CONGRESS ATTITUDE COULD BE ISSUED.

Maulana Azad feels that contradictory interpretations being given to the Congress attitude are creating a lot of misunderstanding and hence he considers it necessary that as far as possible all doubts must be removed.

The Congress President and Mr. Asaf Ali are giving deep thought to this question and invitations extended to Khan Abdul Ghaffar Khan and Maulana Hussain Ahmed Madni for the forthcoming Working Committee meeting are more than significant in this connection.

On his attention being drawn to some reactions to his recent statement about self-determination, Maulana Abul Kalam Azad, the Congress President, said: "A careful examination of the Congress resolution and my last statement on the subject of self-determination will make it clear to anyone that it is the population of a well-defined unit or area whose right to self-determination is recognised.

"Obviously if a considerable majority of population of such a region are Muslims, their decision will be the decision of the area concerned. But it does not mean defranchisement of minorities living in these regions. I have therefore said in so many words that in whichever region the Muslims are in a majority they need have no apprehension that a decision which is not their own will be imposed on them.

"With this assurance made plain it is for them now to examine the merits of the proposals for separation or accession to the Indian Union in an atmosphere free from extraneous interference with their choice. Extraneous interference here refers to the decisions taken by persons not living in the areas concerned. I am deliberately confining myself to the broad principle of self-determination and do not desire to examine its implications in detail. In brief both the Congress resolution and my explanatory statement concern themselves with territorial units and not exclusive religious communities."

Poona Fund For Fulltime Congress Workers

POONA, Sept. 2. (A.P.I.): The Poona District Congress Committee which met here under the Presidentship of Mr. V. K. Sathe, decided to collect a sum of Rs. 40,000 as part of its contribution towards the fund of one and a half lakh of rupees which is being raised in Maharashtra to organise a cadre of full-time workers for Congress work. It is proposed to collect a sum of Rs. 30,000 in the Poona City alone, and the rest from the remaining talukas. The meeting was attended by about 120 workers.

The meeting also discussed the election campaign and the general trend of views that the Congress should contest both general and special constituency seats and that the candidates put up should be workers who have selflessly devoted themselves to the Congress cause.

Mr. Shankerrao Deo, member of the Congress Working Committee, who was present at the meeting reviewed the political development in the country and explained the idea behind the raising of the cadre of fulltime workers to carry on Congress work in Maharashtra.

The meeting was also addressed by Mr. N. V. Gadgil, President of the M. P. C. C., who put forward his views on the organisation of the election campaign with a view to secure the maximum results. He advised them to devote their fulltime and energy towards Congress work during the next six months.

GREATER AWAKENING AMONG STUDENTS

Jawahar's Tribute At Allahabad Volunteers' Rally

ALLAHABAD, September 3 (U.P.I.): That students should organise themselves into a disciplined band dispelling all internal party differences and prepare for responsible work devolving on them in future was the substance of his advice given to students by Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru speaking at a rally of volunteers held here today under the auspices of the Students' Congress.

In this connection, he remarked the U. P. Provincial Congress Committee was the most disciplined body in whole of India. He added that during the last 25 years he did not recall any single instance wherein the U.P.C.C acted contrary to the decisions of the All-India Congress Committee. Pandit Nehru encouraged the students to render examplary services to the cause of the country and expressed satisfaction that a greater awakening was noticeable among them for the past three years. It was the badge of suffering, he continued, that differentiated a Congressman from a member of another party.

Explaining the virtues of the students, Pandit Nehru regretted the craze for office hankering and said that the volunteers in order to be responsible should discard this office seeking.

Kamgar Battalion

BOMBAY, Wednesday.

Dr. T. R. Naravane, the G. O. C. of the Congress Dal, writes:—

The Congress Dal has decided to organise a special battalion called 'Congress Dal-Kamgar Pathak' which will be entrusted mainly with the work in the mill area and Kamgars. The strength of the Pathak fixed for the present is 1,000. The volunteers will be drawn from workers only. The enrolment will begin to-day at Congress House and 'E', 'F' and 'G' Congress Dal ward offices. The actual training of this battalion will start immediately after the A. I. C. C. session is over.

Congress Will Top Polls, Says Choudhry Akbar Khan

COVENTRY, September 4. (U.P.A.): Choudry Akbar Khan, leader of Indian Nationalist Moslems in Britain, in an interview with the United Press of America to-day said that the "Muslim League will be beaten hollow in the forthcoming elections even in Muslim majority provinces. Congress will sweep the board."

He said that if the Congress Party had not been disrupted and persecuted and had been permitted to have "a smooth time like the League and the Hindu Mahasabha... it would unquestionably have polled 99 per cent of the Muslim votes."

Regarding the Labour Government's victory in Britain to which Indian workers contributed, Choudry Akbar Khan said, "It helps the Congress and weakens the League. It heralds a Congress landslide."

The Muslim leader referred to Lord Wavell's visit to London and suggested that better and more progressive proposals to ensure the establishment of Indian independence and sovereignty should be placed before the Indian leaders with the communal clauses eliminated. He said that "Britain must realize that without Congress support—India's support—Britain will have difficulty in economic recovery."

He evinced little sympathy for the Cripps proposals and said, "They are nothing but proposals for the ulsterization or balkanization of India..... They should be ruthlessly opposed as in 1942."

Questioned regarding the League activities in Britain, he said that "they are so insignificant that nobody pays any attention to them."

Choudry Akbar Khan concluded by saying that "immediate measures should be taken in India for political amnesty, the restoration of civil liberties, and the establishment of a truly representative national government."

NEW YORK, September 5. (A.P.A.): Cases of "involuntary bigamy" among American servicemen's wives rose to four to-day as more husbands, previously presumed dead, were released from Japanese prison camps.

Helen Goad, of Portsmouth, Ohio, whose case was the first to be reported, said that annulment of her second marriage to Ensign Robert McDowell "had been taken care of." She will return to Lieutenant Harold Goad, her first husband, who was freed some weeks ago.

Mrs. Ann Birdwell-Marshall (19) of Kansas City filed a suit for the annulment of her marriage to Jack Marshall (33), who is an uncle of her first husband, Sergeant Gene Birdwell.

Mrs. Pearl Kaiser of Williamsport, Pennsylvania, said that her first husband, Sergeant Karl Smith had been heard on a broadcast from the Pacific. She married Privat Hoyt Kaiser on July 30 after Smith had been reported dead on May 26.

Another who has just learned that her first husband is safe in prison is Mrs. Laurie Cales Bernstein who married Lieutenant Ethan Bernstein, a wounded veteran, on July 9. Her first mate was Lieutenant James Cales.

ZIAUDDIN EXONERATES ALIGARH STUDENTS

SAHARANPORE, Sept. 3. (A.P.I.): "The Aligarh University does not recognise political or religious differences. Here the students who are children of Congress leaders and Muslim League leaders reside in the same room and no differentiation is made in the academic or social life of the University", says Dr. Sir Ziauddin Ahmed, Vice-Chancellor of the Muslim University, Aligarh, in his reply to the resolution recently passed by the Students' Federation of Saharanpore regarding the behavour of students of the Muslim University towards Maulana Abul Kalam Azad.

Sir Ziauddin says that there was no demonstration by the students of the University. The demonstration was staged by the Muslim League.

He adds: "It is unfortunate that the press has dragged the University for nothing. The University opened on July 16 and the students were very busy in their admission and accommodation and none here had information that Maulana Azad was passing by the train on the 17th. The whole demonstration in Aligarh and elsewhere was staged by the Muslim Leaguers".

Route System Abolished

The Secretary, West Coast of India Sailing Shipowners' Association writes:—

Owners of sailing ships on the West Coast of India will welcome the news of abolition of the route system. This system was introduced by the Government of India despite the protests of shipowners. The credit for its abolition is largely due to the West Coast of India Sailing Shipowners' Association whose efforts have largely contributed to the bringing about of this happy consummation.

The Managing Committee of the Association inter alia submitted a representation to Sir Edward Benthall, member of the Executive Council of the Governor-General in charge of War Transport Department, and brought to his notice the evils arising from the route system. Subsequently Mr. V. S. Dabholkar, one of the Vice-Presidents of the Managing Committee, on behalf of the Managing Committee, waited upon Sir Edward Benthall on 10th July and protested against the route system.

The question was, thereafter, entrusted to the Shipping Controller, Mr. Gholap, and the Association immediately addressed to him a representation. Considerable agitation was carried on by the Association in the Press.

The Association submitted also the hardships caused to shipowners by the delay in unloading the cargo.

After the abolition of this system shipowners will not now have to pay commission to a route agent who did not render any help to them in securing business or solving their other difficulties. The Association therefore, craves the support not only of the Shipowners but of all the persons interested in the progress and prosperity of this indigenous sea transport trade.

Late Mr. Vyas

(From a Correspondent.)

The 6th of September marks the fourth anniversary of late Mr. Beharial Vyas, publicity secretary of Ratlam State Prajamandal and a pioneer in C. I. States People's Movement, who sacrificed his life on the altar of Ratlam State's repression.

He entered public life at the early age of 27, he fell immediately a victim to the ruthless persecution of State machinery and was arrested for alleged conspiracy against Ratlam State.

Two years' of sufferings in the State's jail shattered his health and he fell victim to various diseases. On account of careless treatment he expired in jail on 6th Sept. 1941. In his death States People have lost a young man who devoted his life to the cause of their liberation.

This brings to one's memory one another comrade Ghafoor Khan, who sacrificed his life on account of Ratlam jail's severe hardship. People of Ratlam and States owe a deep and heavy debt to these youngmen which can only be discharged by keeping alive the ideals for which they lived and died.

City Needs 60,000 Single And Double Room Tenements

Corporation's Congress-Sponsored Resolution Asks Govt. To Release Building Materials

The total inadequacy of residential accommodation in the city and the need for encouraging construction of 50,000 to 60,000 one and two-room tenements for the poor and middle-class people, were emphasised at a meeting of the Bombay Municipal Corporation, on Wednesday, when a Congress-sponsored resolution on the subject came up for consideration. Dr. Alban D'Souza, Mayor, was in the chair.

Mr. S. K. Patil, leader of the Congress Party, moved the following resolution:

That the Corporation have been viewing with growing concern the unsatisfactory condition of housing in the City, the total inadequacy of residential accommodation and the consequent overcrowding particularly among the poorer and lower middle classes in the City and urge upon Government the great necessity of taking immediate steps rendered possible as a result of the cessation of hostilities both in the East and the West, more or less lines indicated below, to relieve the situation:—

(1) Encouraging construction for the poorer and lower middle classes of 50,000 to 60,000 one and two-room tenements conforming to standards re: accommodation, etc., as laid down in the Report of the Rent Enquiry Committee (1939), by removing control over building materials or releasing materials for the specific purpose expeditiously on preferential priorities;

(2) Encouraging building construction in the City generally by letting suitable sites wherever available at concession rents with proper safeguards in relation to fixation of rents on an economic basis through the appointment of a Rent Control Board and releasing building materials therefor.

SCRUTINY.

That Government be also informed that the Corporation will take all possible steps including wherever necessary the appointment of a special staff for expediting the scrutiny and passing of the plans for the proposed construction.

That Government be further requested that as a practical and immediate aid to the solution of the housing problem and particularly with a view to facilitate the efforts of the Corporation in the matter of clearance of slums they would move the Government of India and the Defence Department to transfer to the Corporation for civilian use the numerous temporary structures put up by them in the various parts of the City when no longer required by them.

That on the Government complying with the request contained in above para and making available housing accommodation for the population affected, the Commissioner be requested to push the scheme for the clearance of Dharavi Slum Area.

That as a further aid to the solution of the housing problem in the City Government be requested to take all possible steps for implementing the various recommendations contained in the Report of the Rent Enquiry Committee (1939).

NO AMBITIOUS PROGRAMME.

Mr. Patil, drawing attention to the importance and urgency of the resolution, said that the population of the city in January 1945 was 27 lacs, which indicated a rise of 80 per cent in the population. And during the last four years, not a single building for the civilian population had been erected in the city.

Mr. Patil admitted that the resolution did not contain any ambitious programme of housing. It did not ask for a complete solution of the problem.

But the present need was urgent. About two to three lacs of people in the city were lying on the footpaths.

He suggested that if capital shied to undertake to build about 1,000 buildings providing 50,000 to 60,000 tenements and if private enterprise was not forthcoming, the Corporation should come forward and foot the bill by floating a loan.

As far as the question of land was concerned, there was vast vacant land in the city, covering more than a crore of square yards. And the proposed scheme would not take up more than 10 per cent of this land.

He appealed to the Government to remove restrictions on building materials and facilitate the work of providing tenements for the poor and middle-class population in the city.

WHY MORE SHEDS.

Mr. Dahyabhai V. Patel, seconding the resolution, said that further construction of temporary sheds should stop, as hostilities had ceased. He drew the attention of the House to the statement made in America that all controls in that country would go within 60 days. India, unfortunately, was not as fortunate as America which was independent.

Mr. Jamnadas Dwarkadas, supporting the resolution, replied to Press criticisms of the past attitude of the Corporation in regard to clearance of slums in the city. He stated that it was neither due to the fault of the Corporation nor to the lack of sincerity that slums had not been eradicated. It was due to the apathy of the Government.

LACK OF FUNDS.

After Mr. B. N. Maheshwari spoke in support of the resolution, Prof. G. R. Davar observed that the Municipality had not enough funds to undertake building and slum clearance programmes. The Corporation would have to approach the Government for a loan.

Mr. M. V. Donde stated that the resolution was encouraging. But when buildings were constructed, he suggested that economic rents be charged. He also suggested that industries should be controlled as far as slums were concerned. If industries were not controlled, then their attempts at slum clearance might not make much headway, so much so that when slums in one spot were being cleared, they might spring up in another spot where new industries were operating.

Mr. N. C. Bharucha recalled the past apathy of the members during discussions over Municipality's bye-laws on which the hygiene of the city depended. Meetings after meetings to consider those bye-laws were hardly attended.

After Mr. K. N. Joglekar and Mr. M. E. Joshi spoke, further discussion on the resolution was postponed.

The Corporation will meet again on Thursday (To-day).

B.P.C.C. TO PAY HOMAGE TO MARTYRS

Arrangements For Feeding A.I.C.C. Delegates And Volunteers Nearing Completion

BOMBAY, Wednesday.

For the first time after its legalisation, an emergency meeting of the Bombay Provincial Congress Committee has been called on Thursday evening, to review the political situation during the past three years and to adapt the working of the B. P. C. C. to the new conditions obtaining in the country today.

TO THOSE WHO FELL

The Committee, it is understood, will, at the outset, pass a condolence resolution, on the deaths of those who sacrificed their lives for the nation's cause and expressing gratitude to all who have worked for the cause under various kinds of hardships.

Steps will be taken by the provincial Congress to regularise the work of all committees which have been conducting the constructive programme.

One of the major items on the agenda is the establishment of the Congress House Building Fund which is to finance the ambitious 5-lakh plan of reconstructing the Congress House properties. The B.P.C.C. has already prepared coupons of Rs. 10, 5, 2 and 1 which will be sold in the city. Besides these, munificent contributions will be welcomed by the B.P.C.C.

CLAIM FOR RS. 1,25,000.

The Committee will pass a resolution to-morrow putting forward a claim for the B.P.C.C.'s properties which have not been returned by Government. This claim includes the value of cars and ambulances costing about Rs. 25,000 and rent of Congress properties to the tune of Rs. 75,000. Including the value of furniture, books and the like, which have not been returned, the total claim will exceed a lakh and a quarter.

The Committee will meet again during the week-end to elect a member to the A.I.C.C., in the place of Mr. Patkar, the Communist member whose name was struck off the B.P.C.C.'s list under disciplinary rules. The Committee will also draft proposals to be placed before the A.I.C.C., regarding organisational reconstruction.

FEEDING THE A.I.C.C.

A major problem concerning food for 500 member-guests to the A.I.C.C. and over 2,000 volunteers who will be on duty during the four-day session, has almost been solved by the B.P.C.C. in co-operation with the Governmental authorities.

The Refreshments Committee of the B.P.C.C. to-day discussed plans for this stupendous feeding programme.

Arrangements for the supply of 20 maunds of fresh milk will be made.

SILENT SERVICE.

A citizen who wants to remain anonymous has promised the B.P.C.C. to finance refreshments for the 500 guests and 2,000 volunteers during the session.

For the benefit of the public, there will be two restaurants at Gowalia Tank run under the supervision of the B.P.C.C.

The Accommodation Committee has completed plans to put up 150 guests at the Congress House and 150 at Nemani Wadi (Thakurdwar). The remaining 200 will be lodged in hotels and private houses.

FULL COMPLEMENT OF VOLUNTEERS

Enrolment for the Congress volunteer corps was temporarily suspended at 7 p.m. to-day, the men's and the women's corps having reached the target for the purposes of work in connection with the forthcoming meeting of the A.I.C.C.

Referring to the enrolment of the women's volunteer organisation, Mrs. Sofia Khan, G.O.C., told the press that she had secured a full complement of 500 volunteers out of whom 350 were Sevikas and 150 Kumarikas.

The new entrants will be receiving training by batches at three centres —Congress House, Dadar and Matunga. The corps will be trained for work such as making arrangements inside the A.I.C.C. pandal, and for rallies, flag salutations and the like. The Kumarikas will be taught to organise a flute orchestra.

Besides their volunteer work, the Sevikas will help in selling coupons for the Sevika Dal Building Fund and in the work of charkha classes at Worli and a Harijan centre at Walpakhadi.

The men's corps totals 2,000 strong.

Allies' Threat To General Franco

Spanish Troops Must Quit Tangier International Zone

LONDON, September 5, (Reuter): General Franco has been informed of the Allied decision that he must withdraw his troops from the international zone of Tangier occupied by them since June 1940.

The decision was officially announced yesterday in a communique giving the results of the conference of British, French, American and Russian experts, which ended in Paris on August 31.

It was communicated to the Spanish Government by the British ambassador in Madrid, Sir Victor Mallet and the French representative M. Bernard Hardon.

Reuter's diplomatic correspondent Sylvain Mangeot says that the decisions amount to reversion to status quo'prior to 1940.

Spain will be called upon to withdraw the forces, but retains temporarily at least a place among the administration powers. It is cleared, Mangeot says that Spain's eventual inclusion or exclusion from the administration depends upon her form of Government.

The Potsdam declaration made it plain that Spain stood no chance of being accepted in the Councils of the United Nations until her form of Government was changed.

It is suggested that General Franco missed the opportunity to "save his face" when he failed to withdraw troops as soon as he knew that the powers concerned would discuss Tangier.

If he hesitates to withdraw it is understood, the four principal powers will not hesitate to use effective means to compel him.

NO PLACE FOR FRANCO'S REPRESENTATIVE

A French Foreign Office spokesman said that the decisions of the conference would be published in about a fortnight's time. There would be no place for any representative of General Franco on the Tangier Control Committee, he added, nor would Spain be invited to the conference to be held in six months time to draw up a new statue of Tangier, unless she had a democratic Government by then.

Russia and the United States will be invited to take part in the administration.

Among the signatories of the Act of Algeciras of 1906 apart from the great powers, are Portugal, the Netherlands, Belgium, Sweden and Italy, the last of whom became an adherent to the 1923 Agreement in 1928.

While she is still technically an enemy power, Italy will not take a place among the administering powers, but the early prospects of an Italian peace treaty will presumably involve reconsideration of this.

ADMISSION OF MINOR POWERS

Stating that the powers signatory to the Act of Algeciras will be summoned to the forthcoming conference, to-day's "Times" notes "of the twelve powers in addition to the Sultan of Morocco thus indicated one, Austria-Hungary has ceased to exist and another, Germany has no Central Government to be invited—or excluded. A third, Spain is to be invited conditionally."

The "Times" adds: "The recognition of a Spain other than Franco-Spain, the admission of Italy and the association of minor powers—Belgium, Holland, Portugal and Sweden will be welcomed by British opinion as an attempt to find the broadest possible basis for the work of international reconstruction."

The Conservative "Yorkshire Post" recalls that Spain wished to profit by the critical position and preoccupation "of Britain, France and Italy to establish 'de facto' occupation. It would have been intolerable if such an act of bad faith had been allowed to go unchallenged", the paper declares.

Noting France's "particular interests in Northern Africa" and her "most impressive record as a colonising power in that region" the "Yorkshire Post" declares "during recent months, there have been occasions when French opinion seemed to doubt the sincerity of British desire to see France restored to her full status as a world power. It is good to find that restoration of France as an equal partner with other great powers in the Tangier regime is so fully appreciated."

Spanish Republicans Arrested

MADRID, September 4, (Reuter): A number of important arrests of opponents of General Franco's Government have been made in the province of Huesca on the French Frontier and the neighbouring province of Saragossa, it was learned today.

A number of the politically active symphathisers of Spanish Republicans in France arrested in Huesca, are stated to have said that they were expecting Republicans from France to arrive in Spain.

In Saragossa members of the Committe of the newly formed Republican Social Democratic Party have been arrested as well as several communists.

Trial Of I. N. A. Personnel

Classification Into 'White', 'Grey' And 'Black'

NEW DELHI, Sept. 4.
Military intelligence authorities are understood to have made progress with the investigation of the cases of thousands of officers and men of the "Indian National Army" in accordanec with the decision to treat with mercy and generosity the rank and file who yielded to enemy pressure.

Officers and men will be classified under three heads—white, grey and black—white consisting of those who helped the Allied forces, grey being those who went over under duress and black those who were guilty of actively helping the enemy.

Fresh cases are coming up before the military intelligence and they are being speedily dealt with.

It is understood that courts martials will be constituted shortly to try officers and men of the I.N.A., who are 'prima facie' guilty of heinous offences.

The proceedings of courts martial will be public and the accused persons will be allowed the help of counsel.— A.P.

CRISIS IN GREECE

Greek Deputy Prime Minister Resigns

ATHENS, September 3, (Reuter): The Greek Deputy Prime-Minister of Supply, M. Kiriakos Varvaressos who has resigned, today, accused "representatives of powerful economic interests" as responsible for the disappearance of food, for "corruption of officials, rise of English currency, increase of unemployment and creating an atmosphere of panic."

Reuter's diplomatic correspondent learns that the resignation of M. Varvaressos is regarded as a development of utmost gravity in London, where he was considered next to the Greek Prime-Minister as an outstanding personality and chief policy maker in the Greek Government.

The General impression in London that M. Varvaressos' policy has been frustrated both by the extreme right and the extreme left, has increased the fear that both these elements are trying to prevent a Government by progressive and truly democratic elements.

NEW GOVERNOR-GENERAL OF NEW ZEALAND

LONDON, September 4, (Reuter): Lieutenant General Sir Bernard Freyberg has been appointed Governor General of New Zealand in succession to R.A.F. Marshall Sir Cyril Newall whose term of office expires next February.

This is the first time the post is filled by a man with close New Zealand associations.

Sir Bernard Freyberg holds the Victoria Cross and was the Allied Commander-in-Chief in Crete in 1941.

HIROHITO OPENS GLOOMIEST SESSION OF IMPERIAL DIET

Tells That Premier Will Explain Events Leading To Surrender

LONDON, September 5 (Reuter): As Japanese troops continue to surrender in the outlying parts of the erstwhile Japanese Empire, Emperor Hirohito personally declared open the gloomiest session of the Japanese Imperial Diet in Tokyo yesterday.

General MacArthur will be in Tokyo in a few days and on Thursday, September 6, 20,000 American soldiers will march into the ruined Japanese capital.

The Emperor told the Diet, which was only half-filled with apathetic members, that it was his desire that the Japanese people surmounted the manifold hardships and trials attending the termination of the war, but it will fall to Prince Higashikuni, Prime Minister today to do the 'real explaining of the events leading to the acceptance of the Potsdam Ultimatum.

David Brown, Reuter's Special Correspondent, who attended yesterday's session says that tiny Japanese girls in grey trousers, acting as pages, had to turn the face down on half the desks—indicating absence—the small black lacquered indicators giving members' names.

The Japanese at New Guinea will surrender on Thursday, when Lieut-General Inamura is ordered to present himself on board H.M.S. "Endeavour", in which yesterday Australian and Japanese envoys had talks.

The warship 'Glory' is off Rabaul to meet Lieut-General Sturdey, Commander of the First Australian Army.

Admiral Sir Bruce Fraser, Commander-in-Chief of the British Fleet, who drove into Tokyo yesterday went ashore from the flagship 'Duke of York' in the Australian destroyer 'Waramunga'.

ONLY CURRY AND TEA

Astely Hawkins, Reuter's special correspondent with the British Pacific fleet says that after travelling through miles of devastated areas the party tried to lunch at the famous Imperial Hotel, which survived the American raids on Tokyo's West End, but the only food available was unpalatable curry and tea.

OVERFEEDING IS Injurious

It is particularly so in the case of children whose organisms are delicate.

Immoderate or irregular feeding entails over-activity on the part of the Liver which may subsequently get enlarged. If this condition continues unnoticed or is improperly treated, it may lead to serious consequences.

RECOGNISE THESE SYMPTOMS EARLY

Occasional rise in temperature, constipation or diarrhoea or vomiting, loss of appetite, abdominal distension, general dullness and peevishness.

Narrow Price Movement On Stock Exchange

COTTON DECLINES UNDER TIRED LONG LIQUIDATION

BOMBAY, Sept. 5.

The Bombay Stock Exchange was quietly steady with a narrow price movement in the absence of any important buying or selling.

Cotton market suffered to-day on tired long liquidation and new crop quotations reached new low levels.

SHARE BAZAR

The Bombay Stock Exchange was fairly steady to-day with a moderate business passing. Buyers are cautious on the belief that at present all bullish factors are discounted. The recent rise was mostly due to short covering by those who anticipated lower dividends on Steel shares. It is true that the industrial outlook in this country is satisfactory as civilian potential demand for textiles and steels will be large enough to keep up the present activity, but a section believes unemployment in other directions is likely to increase in due course and this factor is expected to play an important part in the general buying capacity. This state suggests gradual reduction in quotations of manufactured goods and in turn the profits of the industries will be lowered. This state is bound to develop sooner or later and naturally buyers have to be cautious in the absence of any constructive development.

Tata Steel Defd shares opened today at Rs. 2260 and declined to Rs. 2250 under scattered selling and rallied to Rs. 2256. Ordinary shares opened at Rs. 422 and after declining to Rs. 420 steadied at Rs. 421. Bombay Dyeing shares opened at Rs. 1950 and steadied at Rs. 1952. Kohinoor Mill shares opened at Rs. 598 but after declining to Rs. 594 steadied at Rs. 596.

BOMBAY COTTON

As anticipated the local cotton market ruled quiet today on tired long liquidation. There was moderate selling and new crop January was quoted below Rs. 400 level. The cotton market was controlled by professional operators since last March on the belief that this year the crop being short bulls would be able to dictate prices but in actual experience the result is reverse. The syndicate at last failed to absorb September cotton and heavy unloading depressed September to the floor level. Some bulls transferred their September purchases to January at a difference of Rs. 15 and Rs. 20. But the difference kept on widening to Rs 60 and now January contract is believed to be over prices and weak holders are liquidating. This process will create an oversold market suggesting ultimately higher prices before new crop begins to arrive. The market opened today at Rs. 404/8 for January delivery and declined to Rs. 398 on general liquidation and steadied at Rs. 399.

Under moderate buying January improved to Rs. 401/8 and quietened at Rs 400. September can be near Rs. 342 and it is reported that some tenders were returned at this rate. The tendered cotton, if it does pass the Government test will act as burden on the market.

Under renewed selling January declined to Rs. 396. The market finally closed at 6 p.m. as under:—

U. S. A. Cotton Production Estimate

NEW YORK, September 4 (U. P. A.): The "Journal of Commerce" today estimated cotton production for this season at 9,757,000 bales in comparison to the 12,228,000 bales harvested during the 1944 season.

ARRIVAL OF BRITISH EXPERTS TO DISCUSS FUTURE TRADE.

NEW YORK, September 4 (U. P. A.): A special dispatch, to the "Journal of Commerce" from Washington to-day said that "an agreement on the removal of British exchange restrictions on current and future transactions in the sterling area and definite moves toward a new Anglo-American trade agreement are believed to be the likely results of discussions with the arrival of Lord Keynes and Lord Halifax in Washington."

The "Journal of Commerce" added that "its of course not contemplated that the agreements arrived at on current and future transactions would also embrace the problem of blocked balances which has arisen in the past. That is a separate problem. It is not unlikely that restrictive arrangements commonly associated with the so called sterling area dollar pool might be removed if the talks prove successful on this point."

American Business Interested In Foreign Markets

NEW YORK, September 4 (U. P. A.): In contract to a number of other financial writers who are bemoaning United States' industrialists current lack of interest in foreign markets, a "Daily Worker" special article from Washington said that "American businessmen, aided by administration circles are driving to eliminate all protective measures by foreign Governments against U. S. domination of their markets."

The paper, which is the organ of the American Communist Party, added that "the elimination of controls such as the Empire trade preference would open the door to capture British Empire markets by U. S. commercial interests at the expense of the British who are in no position to compete equally with U. S. businessmen."

The article said that the statements to the effect that the United States should return to private enterprise immediately, which were made by Foreign Economic Administrator Mr. Leo T. Crowley and President of the Export and Import Bank Mr. Wayne C. Taylor yesterday "would mean in many cases a virtual domination of foreign markets by U. S. business to the detriment of domestic industries."

The article concluded that present State Department policy means that the "United States will insist upon the repayment of Lend-Lease not in money, but in political and economic concessions."
